IS THIS ALL I HAVE DONE? NO!

1911-1912 County Assets Cash earned 3 per cent interest.

My Administration:

1913-1914 County Assets Cash earned 6 per cent interest.

Is This All I Have Done? NO!

1911-1912 County Warrants bought by brokers at discount.

My Administration:

1913-1914 County Warrants were cashed at par value.

You Ask How This Was Accomplished?

Answer—Conducting the County under strict business and economical system. Buying and dispensing utilities and supplies in close touch with successful business methods.

Was the Efficiency of any department impaired?

Answer—Not in the slightest degree.

Take these figures to the County Records and compare them.

That's the reliable evidence.

UPON THIS SHOWING I ASK YOUR SUPPORT AND INFLUENCE.

Respectfully,

GEORGE BARNETT,

EX-COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

TO GET A CONVENTION

Superintendent Buchanan Will Invite National Superintendents' Association to Hold Meeting Here.

At a meeting Monday night of the city board of education, Superintendent C. V. Buchanan was introduced to tender an invitation to the National Superintendents' association to hold the 1916 meeting in Oklahoma City. The annual meeting of the association this year is to be held at Cincinnati on February 22 and the Oklahoma City superintendent will invite the members to come here for the next session. The association, which is scheduled to hold a meeting here, several years ago, but owing to the fact that the only large hotel in the city at that time burned shortly before the date set, the convention was held elsewhere.

Several members of the board criticized the policy of allowing performance in the school buildings to which admission was restricted. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and instructed to take whatever steps were necessary.

The purchase of three new machines from the E. C. Smith and Brothers Typewriter company was authorized by the board. The new equipment is for the commercial department. Superintendent Buchanan's verbal report showed that approximately six hundred more pupils are attending Oklahoma City schools today than one year ago.

NEW PLAN TO BUILD CHURCH IS PUT UNDER WAY AT GATE

GATE Ok., Feb. 2.—The Friends at this place are trying a new plan

DUDLEY 2 1/2 inches
NORMAN 2 1/2 inches
ARROW COLLARS
For 25c. Child, Family & Co., Inc., Boston

to build a church. Every one is invited to send something they have and do not need to the church by parcel post and these packages are to be sold at auction without opening. A big watch company of Chicago is going to send ten watches, a silverware company is to send silver tableware and a good many valuable things will be mixed among the packages.

They expect a thousand a thousand packages or more and they do not doubt will sell for at least 25 to 35 cents each. A big three-day auction with beyond of corner stone of the church will be something like a "big time" for that part of the country. All labor is donated, so everything will be clear.

INDIAN BAND TO PLAY

Tomball Will Be Used to Make Religious Music at Big Christian Association Convention at Tulsa.

TULSA, Ok., Feb. 2.—A thousand male voices in one big chorus, led by C. B. Willis, one of the greatest song leaders of the world, will be one of the unique features of the state Y. M. C. A. convention, state student conference and state gospel team convention to be held in Tulsa's new convention hall February 11, 12, 13 and 14.

This will be largest exclusive male chorus ever assembled in the state, and under the direction of Mr. Willis and accompanied by the Chillico Indian band, these thousand voices will fairly raise the roof of the big municipal auditorium.

Mr. Willis has been chorus leader at International Y. M. C. A. conventions for several years and has no equal in this country as a leader of religious music. He has been a Y. M. C. A. secretary for thirty-two years, and is now general secretary at Milwaukee. Mr. Willis is also secretary-treasurer of the Secretaries' Insurance alliance of the Y. M. C. A. Secretaries of North America.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE WAR IN EUROPE

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 2.—Renewal of a fierce offensive by the Germans in the region of Sochaczew and Boliwów on the road to Warsaw is admitted in an official statement issued here today. The violence of the German attack, the statement says, compelled some of the Russian units to retire to the second line of trenches. The communication was as follows: "On the right bank of the Lower Vistula on Jan. 31, our cavalry made a sudden and successful assault upon the German line along the front between Brozun and Lake Oreszele, 15 versus 10 miles north of Sierp, capturing many officers and soldiers. "The attempt of the Germans on the 30th to open the offensive movement in the direction of Lipno and Dobroya, supported by artillery fire, was checked.

"On the left bank of the Vistula front at the villages of Makow and Dyblin, the enemy was thrown back to the line of the villages of Weleze and Nasignewa, northwest of Wloslawek. The Germans in retreating abandoned at Makow many of their dead.

"In the course of the day of January 31, the enemy, after having concentrated in the region of Sochaczew, Boliwów, the south of Boliwów, a large force of artillery, developed, active operations against our positions with very considerable force. The German offensive was distinguished by great tenacity, the foe advancing in close ranks strongly supported from the rear.

"After having concentrated a violent fire in the morning upon that region the fierceness of the German offensive compelled some of our units to retire to the second line of trenches."

PETROGRAD, Feb. 2.—An official statement issued to the general staff in the Caucasus says:

"There was no fighting on January 30 at any point on the front."

"In the meanwhile a counter attack from another detachment of our forces drove the enemy from all the trenches occupied by him, inflicting upon the enormous losses.

"Simultaneously with the attack on Boliwów the Germans delivered a series of ferocious assaults against our front between the villages of Gornia, Bourgade and Mogholy. These attacks were supported by very heavy artillery fire. Up to midday of January 31, every one of these assaults was driven back by us, some by our rifle fire and some with the bayonet. But between midday and 2 p. m. of January 31, the Germans were successful in occupying a part of our trenches. In this, they were helped largely by an energetic and sustained artillery fire.

"A little after 2 o'clock we undertook a general counter attack. This was successful and as a result of it the enemy retained but a little portion of January 31 of our trenches together with a certain plateau in the country. It can be said the success of the Germans on January 31 were relatively insignificant compared to the losses we inflicted on the enemy with our artillery fire, our counter attack and our bayonet charges. According to reports from our military chiefs, the Russian artillery inflicted immense damage on the Germans. Our guns dispersed dense gatherings of German infantry and reduced their batteries to silence; this made it possible for us to resist their fierce attack.

"The fighting in the Carpathians continues. In spite of the reported participation of fresh Austrian troops which up to the present time have not actually appeared on our front, we were successful in repelling every endeavor of the enemy to assume the offensive in the vicinity of Mount Bezd and Mount Woskow and are continuing to advance with success along the front from Sijah Polianska to Tombochsk.

"It should be related that during the night of January 30-31 at a point near Mollmow, a Russian detachment advanced upon the enemy and dislodged them from certain positions which threatened the heads of our trenches. In this encounter our men used the bayonet freely and we captured some machine guns. Local inhabitants relate that after the Lipno-Dobroya fight, sixty wagons were used to remove their wounded. Germans captured near Boliwów are authorized for the statement that between January 24 and January 30 the Germans on a front near Boliwów one and one-half versts long, a little less than a mile, lost over 6,000 men in killed. The wounded were numerous.

"In the Carpathians between January 26 and 29 on the front between Nijda Polianska and Loudowski, we captured 78 officers, 410 soldiers, four pieces of artillery and ten machine guns."

FRENCH.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the war, which reads as follows:

"The day of February 1 was marked by redoubled intensity in the artillery fighting on our part as well as that of the enemy, and by a series of German attacks of relative secondary importance, all of which were repulsed. We secured losses for our adversaries, when compared to the number of men they had engaged.

"In Belgium, the German heavy artillery gave evidence of its greatest activity on the front of the Belgian troops and particularly against the various points of support which these troops have been occupying for some time past in the region of the Yser. Around Ypres the cannonading was at some places exceedingly violent.

"Between the Lys and the Somme, a German regiment attacked a British position near Guinchy and at first drove the English soldiers back. After a series of counter attacks, the British troops re-occupied the ground they had lost and then advanced into new territory, taking possession of trenches of the enemy.

"The engagement reported in the announcement given on the night of February 1 which took place along the roadway between Bethune and La Bassée, was particularly brilliant for our infantry. It seemed the German had at least one battalion in this engagement. The first two attacks were broken by our fire. The third was successful in that the Germans entered one of our trenches, but an immediate counter attack at the point of the bayonet resulted in our overcoming the enemy. Only a few Germans succeeded in regaining their trenches; all the others were killed or taken prisoners.

"Between the Somme and the Oise and west front of the Aisne there is no important development to report with the exception of a German attack on Beaumont Hamel, which was not renewed. Our artillery bombarded the railroad station at Noyon, where the Germans were re-provisioning their forces. Our shells caused two explosions, the smoke from which could be seen for more than two hours and a half.

"Our methodical progress in the region of Perthes continues. We have occupied another small forest to the northwest of this village.

"In the Woerthe district the enemy delivered an attack on the western side of the Bouillon forest, northeast of Treves, which was at once driven back.

"There is nothing to report on the front in Lorraine and in the Vosges."

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The headquarters staff of the German army today gave out the following statement:

"In the western theatre of the war: There have been artillery exchanges at several points; with this exception there is nothing important to report. "There have been no important developments in East Prussia.

"In Poland, north of the Vistula and near Lipno we have had encounters with detachments of Russian cavalry. South of the Vistula our attacks continue to make progress.

"Continuing, today's report says that the French war reports during the past few days have contained grotesque distortions of the truth to the disadvantage of the Germans as well as what is characterized as free inventions."

"The staff declines to go into details in this regard, simply saying that the value of these French statements is apparent to any one who will examine them in the light of the German official reports."
